The Studio You've Been Looking For

The Powdersville location is our flagship WhiteWall studio—purpose-built from the ground up to deliver the most seamless, fully equipped studio and event experience in the Greenville area.

With over 2,000 sq ft of fully private space, this studio was designed for photographers, creators, and event hosts who want room to work, complete privacy, and a clean, modern environment that simply works.

Arrive, pull directly up to the 12-ft garage door, unload in seconds, and walk straight into your space. From the moment you step in, everything is designed to feel smooth, comfortable, and ready to go—so you can stay focused on creating.

Natural light fills the studio through a massive 40-ft wide by 12-ft tall window wall, creating a soft, high-end look throughout the day. Remote blackout shades and window diffusion give you full control when you need it.

The space also includes a dedicated hair and makeup area, on-site parking just steps from the door, and a private en-suite bathroom—adding to the overall comfort and ease of the experience.

Inside, the studio is built to support real productions with real clients. You'll have access to large modular set-building cubes, and an expansive collection of furniture and props—giving you the flexibility to shape the space however you need.

Our studio offers a range of add-ons to further customize your setup, including seamless paper backdrops, premium lighting kits, TV displays, a PA system, and our signature rolling accent walls with multiple textures—allowing you to quickly transform the space and create a wide range of looks, all within a single booking.

Planning an event? This location offers 100 chairs, 10 eight-foot tables, and a seamless indoor-outdoor setup.

Located just minutes from downtown Greenville, the Powdersville studio was designed for those who want the full WhiteWall experience—a space that feels polished, comfortable, and incredibly easy to work in, whether you're shooting, producing, or hosting.

Taylors booking page description:

The Studio That Started It All

Our original WhiteWall studio, located inside the historic Taylors Mill complex.

This 1,000 sq ft space is known for its timeless mill aesthetic, original windows, and authentic character that many photographers are drawn to. It's a space that keeps things simple—letting the texture, light, and subject take center stage.

Tucked within Taylor's Mill, the studio offers a unique, creative environment with a short walk through the complex from the main parking area. Shared restroom facilities are located just down the hall, maintaining the original character of the space.

Taylors Mill is a great fit for simple, intentional sessions—portraits, quick shoots, and creatives who prefer a more minimal, organic setting.

For those looking for a more spacious, fully private, and amenity-rich experience, our Powdersville flagship location offers a purpose-built studio designed for comfort, flexibility, and a more elevated production environment.

BOOKING Powdersville changes:

Whenever you select photo session, or event session, have the one selected be white, with a blue bolded perimeter around it, and make the other option dark grey like it is right now – but inversed

When guests enter their expected attendee count, trigger this message at 35+ people (not 50): “For events with 35+ attendees, our team will follow up to confirm details, including a potential $150 cleaning fee. For events with 50+ attendees, a $150 cleaning fee will be automatically applied.”

Claude, automatically add a $150 cleaning fee to the order summary if the number is over 50 people. Add the same line item in there during their summary if it is over 35 people, but put $0, and then a small description saying we will be in touch if there are any changes. You know what im going for. Make it look good and flow well, automatically.

Also, cap it at 150 people. They cannot continue with the booking over 150 people. Put a pop up letting them know that the event cannot host more than 150 people total, including vendors and contractors.

Tell Us About Your Event. Change language to this:

Please include as much detail as possible so we can fully understand your event. Be sure to book enough time for setup, your event, and returning the studio to its original, clean condition.

Our calendar is often booked back-to-back, and it's common for another booking to be scheduled immediately after yours—so please plan your timing accordingly. A team member will follow up if any additional details or approvals are needed. If you don't hear from us, you're all set. For events with 35+ attendees, we may follow up regarding a potential $150 cleaning fee. For events with 50+ attendees, a $150 cleaning fee will be automatically applied.

also , we filled everything out, but the text box is not letting us move on. Everything in this entire page is filled out properly, but there is a red line around the text box that we filled in, and its not letting us continue to waiver because I guess there is an error or bug with the text box for the event?

Acknowledgments (during checkout – Powdersville):

"I understand that bookings with 35+ guests require internal approval. The WhiteWall team will review my request and follow up with confirmation, along with any additional details, including a cleaning fee for larger gatherings."

In the intake form – the numbers should match if it is an event from the top number of attendees. If it doesnt mtch, pop up that it doesnt match. For photo or video session, make a pop up pop iup for a $150 cleaning fee for booking with great than 50, and auto add that fee into the summary.

In the Important – please read carefully

Change wording to say important informational youtube videos. Ad the word informational.

Claude, if you can do this, grea. If not, notify Andrew to do this. We want it to alos text all the booking info to them. Acuity should be able to do that. That important. Make sure andrew knows to do that if its not possible on yoru end.

BOOKING Taylors Mill changes:

We should cap Taylors mill at 50 people (for photoshoots). Wont even let them book beyond 50. No matter what.

This location is not approved for events. Change this to say: This location is only approved for photo and video shoots, no events/parties allowed.

Claude, it wont let us book to the waiver page on Taylors Mill either.

GALLERY:

Input all the photos from the google drive into the gallery page for powdersville. There is a lot more photos in there, and w have added more. Be sure to check every folder.

When you are in either Taylors mill or Powdersville tab in the gallery, and you click on a photo and scroll between the photos on the view tab, it shows photos from the other gallery tab, even though you are only in the specific one. So if I click into the powdersville tab, click on a photo, and start swiping over to the next photo, it will show a taylors mill photo.

In the taylors mill and powdersville specific pages, make sure to include all the photos in there too. Especially Powdersville. We need all the photos in there.

POWDERSVILLE SPECIFIC PAGE

We will produce a video to place here instead of the photo of the guy sitting on the boxes. For now, grab a video we already have in the google drive folder that works best, and use that as a place holder. But we will produce that video and give it to you to swap it out asap. Claude, lety Andrew know.

Make sure to change event photos out too on the powdersville page. We took some good photos for the Events tab recently. Would be cool if we could take maybe 4 of those photos and do a carousel next to the event paragraph.
